It's very hard to find this information online. The link is outdated with old changes to PBE. Basically, the hand icon will now have a hitbox when it is close to the ground and hit again. Currently it does not do anything in other situations (e.g. standing). As this would be a change in PBE it needs to be approved by Riot before it goes live. However, it is considered low priority by the PBE team so it will likely be live in a few days when Riot consider this enough testing and feedback.

Your thoughts on this matter and what you think of this change are appreciated. I love the new splash art so far. It's simple and yet still has so much potential. On the other hand, the models look really, really ugly. The kyrie looked especially bad as a comparison for why that's the case. Please tell me this is a joke. It's not. You can use an old model from the official jungle/old jungle items to save some loading time. Also, check out the files they have uploaded for you. It's not an obscure model from an alternate universe.using

'Reply-To: test@email.com'; // Send the email! The code works perfectly. But how can I test that the email has been sent to the correct email? What is the best way to test that the email has been sent? A: In the cases where I need to send an email, I use the PHPMailer class and a test case. I have this working for me. Hope it helps. (EDIT) To send a "verified" email: $mailer = new PHPMailer(); $mailer->SMTP(); $mailer->SMTPAuth = true; $mailer->SMTPSecure = 'tls'; $mailer->Host = 'ssl://smtp.gmail.com'; $mailer->Port = 465; $mailer->Username = $username; $mailer->Password = $password; $mailer->SMTPDebug = 0;
