When your customers make an inquiry about your content or website, they enter information into a form. This information is then stored in a list. When you are ready to send your customers a reply, you can then choose to send them a reply or not. If you do send them a reply, the reply is sent to the list, and within seconds, the list is displayed to the customer on their next visit to your website. This enables you to monitor your customers' inquiries. With the feedback information, you can stay on top of any new problems that may arise with your customers.

Features Simple... Development of web-based HRMS

1. We are a global company with over 50 years' experience in HCM and HRIS.
2. We have worked with many HRIS vendors and used many Enterprise HCM-HRIS systems.
3. When we came to choose a new HRIS and HCM system, we chose Slackware and continued with the system for a couple of years.
4. Later, we wanted to implement a new Enterprise HCM solution with big data and big reports and use our existing framework. We came across MadCap Pulse and determined that it is a large scale solution suitable to meet our needs.
5. We purchased MadCap Pulse for a pilot with in depth product demonstrations.
6. We came to evaluate MadCap Pulse and were very impressed with the solution and decided to go live with MadCap Pulse.
7. MadCap Pulse is licensed to us on an Enterprise basis, for a limited time.
8. MadCap Pulse meets all of our requirements.
9. After the pilot project, we made a decision to go on a full priced Enterprise software license for MadCap Pulse.
10. We are planning to go live with MadCap Pulse this year.

Groupon on the Road to 100 Million Users If there's one single word to describe Groupon (GRPN), it's disruptive. Not long ago, the company was just another generic coupon site with a focus on big cities. Not anymore. In the past few years, Groupon has gone from offering discount coupons on products and services in large metropolitan areas like New York to offering the same deals in the lowest-income neighborhoods near some of the country's biggest cities. "Through a lot of work with our merchants and a lot of market research we've learned that we are just as likely to offer a coupon to a person
