This time of the year is filled with sickness and all sorts of different types of illnesses. The lice is the one that is in our classroom. I was so excited to see this one in my class. Example of a head lice infestation In the past I have had bad experiences of my kids getting lice. Lice is the type of illness that you wish you could put a spell on. Unfortunately lice is a type of illness that is growing. It starts out as a louse and it can be a giant infestation. You have to be careful that you are not making it worse. You need to be careful that you are getting rid of them correctly because it can be so hard to get rid of the lice. I have been practicing removing lice from others with my students at home. They loved it! It is so interesting that they think that it is a game. I explained that it was more serious than a game. The lice is a contagious type of illness. They could have gotten it from home.

The parents are more concerned about the lice infestation. You need to check their head very carefully. The students in my class have had to call their parents to help them because they missed that little bit of lice infestation.

Binding studies with [125I]epinephrine to the human platelet alpha2-adrenergic receptor have been performed. Epinephrine bound to the platelet adrenoceptors, indicating the presence of an alpha2-adrenoceptor subtype on human platelets. The association of [125I]epinephrine to the platelet adrenoceptor was rapid and saturable. Increasing concentrations of GTP shifted the binding of epinephrine to a higher affinity state ( $KD = 38.4 \pm 3.1$  pM and  $B_{max} = 17.5 \pm 1.0$  fmol/10(7) platelets).

The addition of 10 microM guanosine 5'-O-thiodiphosphate (GDPbetaS) to the platelet-rich plasma resulted in a loss of epinephrine binding. The potency profile of dopamine-related compounds to inhibit the binding of [125I]epinephrine to the platelet adrenoceptors at 3 microM binding revealed some stereoselectivity for dopamine D2 agonists. The dopamine D2 receptor antagonists, (-)-sulpiride and clozapine, inhibited the binding of [125I]epinephrine at 100 microM.

A similar profile was obtained at 10 microM, with the highest inhibition being observed for (-)-sulpiride.

The results of the present study indicate that: (1) epinephrine binds to the platelet alpha2-adrenoceptor, (2) the presence of GTP favors the binding of epinephrine to the platelet adrenoceptors, (3) dopamine D2 agonists inhibited the binding of [<sup>125</sup>I 3e33713323
