Centurion Hindi Dubbed 62

Centurion Hindi Dubbed 62 Tuesday, May 23, 2007 This week has the first of three interviews with super-secret blogger Connie. I've watched the video a couple of times and my review is.... the most annoying thing I've ever reviewed. It's a constant, non-stop, 2.5 hours of whining, bitching, and complaining about her childhood and the people around her. I feel like I'm about to snap when she's not going to shut up. And when she finally stops talking about herself, it's for a few minutes and then we get back to how she feels, or what other person in the world is wrong with her. This is such a drag. I'm so sick of these kinds of shows. We get it, you love your sister. That's great! I'm so glad to hear it. And I'm so glad you let me hear from your sister, too. I can't wait until I get to see what happened with your sister and you. I do kind of feel like there should be a "happy ending," but I'm okay with a "less than happy ending" or a "you changed." The future is so mysterious and mysterious people are interesting. I don't know about the rest of you, but I'm going to savor these weeks of gossip and catharsis. I hope you all enjoy it, and I hope some of you get to be on one of the shows! (TheO, you come up the least in my mind.) 8 comments: That could have been the theme song for my life. I am looking forward to it just the same. I got a divorce before my kids did, so I didn't get the luxury of being a non-issue. Y'all need to sit down for a moment, review the program, and get a good idea of the comedy. Everyone does it, you can't really "win." When you are on television, it's hard to say "no" but you must have a sense of humor when you refuse. It's a good show, watch it, then send me links to your blog and I'll come to your house to watch it. All I have to do is sit in the basement alone or we can both watch it in the big room where I have my couch and end table. I am not very social, but I will put in your good word and let you be the innocent victim. Woot. f30f4ceada
