I am trying to read a local http local file, I've been doing some googling and I have gotten some results. I have tried doing this: `$file = file_get_contents("");` or `$file = file_get_contents("");`; But it doesnt work. When I use file_get_contents, I get a blank page, when using file_get_contents it errors. I have made sure that the server runs, and I can use an online file. A: file_get_contents is for remote files. And the following code would throw a warning: `file_get_contents("");` should be: `f30f4ceada`
