A new cyclic sulfonamide derivatization reagent 3,6-diphenyl-1,2,4-triazine-5-thiol (DPAT) was synthesized, and its preliminary use as a reagent for the derivatization of chiral diastereoisomers in solution was studied. A racemic diastereoisomer of racemic nifedipine, trans(4S)-[4-(1,4-dihydro-2,6-dimethyl-3-nitro-4-oxospiro[4,5]dec-8-yl)piperidyl]-4-hydroxy-L-tart-amide, was firstly derivatized with this reagent at different concentrations to enhance its chromatographic resolution. The derivatized diastereoisomer was successfully separated on a microbore Chiralcel OD column with high column efficiency. Moreover, a diastereoisomer of a novel bioactive compound, (R)-(+)-pericamphenicol, was derivatized with the DPAT reagent. The derivat

If you do not have it then download Autodesk Autocad here: After you downloaded Autodesk Autocad, It will give you activation key and register it to your account. Please click here to get Autodesk Autocad Activation key: then you will be able to use it.

Q: Matching strings using dplyr in R I have a data frame with two columns, names I want to select all entries where names match I am using the following code, but it doesn't seem to work `df %>% filter(names == "Pippo")` Can you help me? Thanks

A: names is a vector of strings, so you can use `%in%` to subset with it. `df %>% filter(names %in% c("Pippo"))`

A: Or if you have multiple elements you could do `df %>% filter(names %in% c("Pippo", "Emma", "Joe"))`

Q: How to filter a JSON object's result in an array using jquery? I have a JSON object that needs to be filtered in an array. I have got the array that I need but the problem is I cannot make an array of the JSON object. I have got these multiple JSON objects. I want to make an array out of these objects and filter it. I have used the function before but I had only one result but now I have multiple results and I'm lost. I'm new to JQuery so I'm not too familiar with the code. I'll post my code below

JSON data:

What's New In AutoCAD?

The default format for importing paper and PDFs has been changed from PDF to XDPB. When AutoCAD imports XDPB documents, the placeholders will automatically be updated to display the name of the new DPI and print size the paper is printed at. With this change, it will no longer be necessary to update the paper model and paper size in the Drafting Views if you're incorporating feedback from XDPB or printed paper. New Document Properties dialog box provides a better layout for displaying and editing document properties. A new command, Change Document Properties, has been added to the menu.

“AutoCAD Journal” application has been updated. It has many new features such as adding drawings, AutoCAD drawings, import or export drawings, and performing operations. (video: 5:00 min.) “Save As PDF” dialog box allows you to choose the output PDF format from the drop-down menu. Allowed formats include PDF/X-1a, PDF/A-1a, and PDF/E-2a. The font, style, and size of the PDF will be preserved. (video: 1:25 min.) “Download As Web Page” dialog box allows you to choose the output image format from the drop-down menu.

Allowed formats include GIF, JPEG, PNG, and BMP. (video: 2:00 min.) “Find” dialog box has been updated. A new Edit in Toolbox option has been added.

(video: 2:00 min.) AutoCAD Architecture and Revit Architecture are 2 new applications in AutoCAD. Architecture provides a 3D interactive environment that gives you an ideal view of how your models will appear. AutoCAD Architecture applications include: CorelDRAW Architectural and Engineering Suite: This product is aimed at architecture and engineering design professionals who use the range of tools for 2D and 3D design, modeling, rendering, and documentation in architectural and engineering drawings. The product features a complete set of tools and a wide range of pre-installed content to save time and maximize productivity. (video: 4:40 min.)
