This is often the first unit on which students receive a notification of acceptable and unacceptable performance. Students must evaluate themselves on a scale of 0-10; a 10 denotes the highest quality and 0 denotes an absence of quality. Evaluations are graded as follows: Acceptable 4-7, Unacceptable 0-3 Feb 1, 2018 Unit 2: Quality and Evaluation Assessment, Development Feb 1, 2018 Description: In this unit, we address the topic of job evaluation and identify appropriate evaluative tools to assess student work. In the final evaluation, student work is assessed qualitatively, as well as quantitatively, in order to understand how well students' work fits with the assignment criteria. Students are expected to provide written feedback on their work and quality of effort. A rubric (outlined in Unit 8) will be used to guide student analysis of the work and provide evaluative criteria, quantification of the quality of work, a grading of their performance. Feb 1, 2018 Unit 3: Organization and Communication of Records Feb 1, 2018 Description: Students are expected to organize and file their work in order to optimize their organization and accessibility of their work. Student records should be placed in a readily accessible, legible, and space-efficient manner. Students should take into consideration the fact that their research reports are not only
