Features: This program has been designed to be very easy to use. The first thing you see in Judy's TenKey is a calculator. Just click on the box to start the calculator. Or, you can enter numbers in any order, including decimals, floating numbers, exponents, fractions, or any other way you want. You can also right-click the box, and choose any option from a menu. The "menu" will change automatically according to your current selection. For example, if you are in the square root mode, when you click on the square root button, the menu will change so that you can select from the square root options. If you are in the mode for Logarithm, you can select Natural Logarithm from the menu. The menu includes items for advanced functions.
