creators who use the service. Twitch Live is a new service that lets creators create livestreams in real-time across multiple platforms. The Twitch Creator Portal made this possible with Twitch's API and Maker Studio's Marketplace. Twitch Live will be available on September 23rd. Twitch Live has a number of features and advantages that make it unique in the streaming video space. First of all, all of the monetization options are sold through Maker Studios' Marketplace. Twitch creators can earn money through subscriptions, merchandise, sponsorships, in-game items and partner marketing. The service also affords creators live feedback and analytics. Twitch Live will be integrated into both desktop and mobile apps on the twitch.tv homepage. There is also support for chat, interface and overlay customization. "Twitch Live is a great new product that will be a valuable monetization option for thousands of creators," said Eric Wahlforss, Head of Content at Maker Studios, "From creating new shows and live streams, to streaming events like MakerCon and TwitchCon, there are tons of new ways for creators to reach new audiences and create new revenue streams. By partnering with Twitch, we're helping creators build a platform to monetize their content in a new, truly global way." Matt DiP b7e8fdf5c8
