Mizzou will play at Dallas in the 2019 opener Morgan Wilhite - Missouri Today It wasn't a good weekend for Missouri's 2019 schedule. The Tigers were officially announced as the home team for the 2019 Outback Bowl on Thursday, Dec. 20. Missouri now has two options: the Dallas

Cowboys' AT&T Stadium for the Dec. 20 game, or the University of Minnesota's TCF Bank Stadium for the Tigers' next bowl game in the 2020 postseason, the TaxSlayer Bowl. "We've always been in the forefront of the Outback Bowl, which is where we're really aiming for this year, and we've always had a good relationship with the Cowboys,” Missouri Athletic Director Mike Alden said in a statement. “I am very pleased that the opportunity has opened up for us to play at Dallas.” Missouri and the Cowboys have previously hosted games at AT&T Stadium, but that game will be in the 2017 season. Missouri will now take on the Ohio State Buckeyes in the 2019

Outback Bowl. The Tigers are 26-11 all-time against the Buckeyes, and the second time the teams will have met in December. The teams played in the 2014 Outback Bowl, and the Buckeyes defeated the Tigers by a score of 52-24. The TaxSlayer Bowl will mark the ninth time the schools have met, with the two previous meetings resulting in Missouri victories. The Tigers defeated the Buckeyes in the 1965 Sugar Bowl, and the Tigers took a 15-14 win over the teams in the 1979 Gator Bowl. MSU's College Football schedule was announced Friday. The Tigers will take on the Ohio State Buckeyes on Saturday, Sept. 14, in Columbus, Ohio. "It's been an exhilarating experience so far to be a part of the vision the university has for MSU football,” MSU head coach Mark Dantonio said in a statement. “With the record-setting 2015 season and the incredible success since, there’s no doubt the program is on its way to the next level. To play in one of the most prestigious bowl games in the country is a tremendous opportunity to showcase our program to a national audience in what will be a fun celebration of MSU football.” The
