FIFA is the world's most popular football game. Electronic Arts Inc. (NASDAQ: EA) developed FIFA as an authentic football experience on your television set, your console and your mobile device. With deep gameplay innovation and revolutionary gameplay features, the FIFA experience will take you closer to the game than ever before. Powered by Football FIFA is no stranger to the NFL partnership. EA SPORTS has been working with teams in the National Football League and the Collegiate Athletics Association (NCAA) to bring football to life in the most complete football game on the market. How does this version differ from other versions? FIFA 22 brings more detail, better animation and better gameplay -- all thanks to the feedback and support from the millions of EA SPORTS FIFA players who made their voices heard. In FIFA 22, we've taken the time to implement player feedback and create more detail, look and feel. The size and quality of the largest stadium atmosphere continues to improve, while the stadiums and kits continue to reflect the unique textures, colors and materials of the real-world leagues. Tackle moves Our new Tackle controls allow you to accelerate in a punch or slice towards the ball, regardless of where your player is on the pitch. Tackle controls are contextual: if you're pressing the left bumper on the pitch, you're going to want to accelerate toward the ball in one direction. If you want to punch toward the ball, press the right bumper. If you want to slice the ball, press the left bumper again. New controls for free kicks Free kicks are fan-favorite FIFA features and we're pleased to finally offer the ability to kick the ball to a free-kick area before free kicking. You can now choose whether to hit the ball with a controlled run or power shot. The run shot initiates from mid-range and the power shot or header from closer to the goal. Receive a free kick Locking down a player when you get a free kick in a specific area of the pitch makes your life easier when the ball is in the penalty area. If you receive a kick in a specific area, a small icon will appear at the top of the screen. Select to either pursue the ball or you may receive a free kick. Customise your players' appearance You can now create your own customized appearance for your players, making them look the part on the pitch. Customize your player bc9d6d6daa
